GERMAN REFORM TO BE ENFORCED

Alsace-Lorraine Must Be Returned to France to Right Wrong

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson has answered Germany's peace proposal with a decision which not only fulfills the expectations of supporters of diplomacy, but also dispels the fears of those who predicted he would support a peace at arms with defeat at terms as absolutely as possible. No peace with kaiserism, autocracy must go; no armistice can even be thought of while Germany continues her atrocities on land and sea; one cannot be considered unless it fully restores the field in such a manner as to provide safeguards and guarantees that Germany's part will not be a scrap of paper; this in a few words, is the President's answer.

It does not bring a capitulation which may be more than an unconditional surrender. Allied diplomats and American officials believe it may cause a revolution in Germany.

Beyond question it speaks for the Entente as well as the United States. The dispatch of the President's reply was followed by issuance of the following formal statement by Secretary Tamm:

"The government will continue to send over 250,000 men with their supplies every month and there will be no relaxation of any kind."

Quite outside of the formal phrases of a diplomatic document that was President Wilson's word to the world that he had no thought of stopping the fighting at this stage. The Senate chamber rang with applause as the President's answer was read a few minutes after it had been announced at the state department. Senator Lodge, the President's chief critic until today, issued a statement expressing his gratification at the President's decision. Opinion throughout official Washington was unanimous in approval.

The official text, which will convey the President's decision to the German government and, more important, to the German people, was delivered today by Secretary Lansing to the chargé of the Swiss legation, who has been acting as the intermediary. It was issued publicly by Mr. Lansing at the state department at 5 o'clock this evening.

One outstanding point which does not appear in the President's note—a point on which the world has been asking questions—can be answered tonight. When the President declared that the wrong done to France when Germany took Alsace-Lorraine should be righted, he meant that Alsace-Lorraine should be returned to France.

Those who contend the President's decision arranges the situation for something more than an unconditional surrender base their argument on their belief that he now has passed the stage where he might have accepted a surrender of German military and naval forces and left the Hohenzollern autocracy on its throne. Wilson, according to this view, has

GORGAS RETAINED IN ARMY WORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Recall to the active list of Major General William C. Gorgas, former surgeon general of the army, and his assignment to active duty in the rank of the medical corps, was announced today by Secretary Baker. General Gorgas will complete the inspection of medical facilities in France and England upon which he now is engaged.

PRESIDENT WARNS HUNS ALLIES ARE NOT TO BE TRICKED

Foch Will Exact Full Guaranties in Case of Armistice—Points Out Continuance of German Atrocities

The text of the President's answer follows: "The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the Reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the Allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the Allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the Allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as belligerents will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships and its aircraft are attacking the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rule and practice of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain not only, but often of their very inhabitants. The actions associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while such acts of inhumanity, spoliation and despoliation are being continued, which they justify look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President, delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July, last.

"It is as follows: 'The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can so completely, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency. The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it.' The President's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The President will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed), "ROBERT LANSING, Mr. Frederick Oederlin, Charge d'Affaires ad interim, in charge of German interests in the United States.

Finally informed the German people that if they want peace they can only attain it by getting rid of the kaiser and his system. An armistice, it is true, might come first and the details of the downfall of the German autocratic government might be arranged later. But this is what an armistice would entail.

First: A stop to atrocities on land and sea and the systematic devastation of the whole of re-creating German armies.

Second: Disarmament of all German forces and deposit of their arms and munitions at points to be chosen by the Allied military commanders.

Third: The occupation by Allied forces of certain German cities or strongholds of importance. Probably also the occupation of all the submarine bases, a turning over of Germany to the Allies.

In short, it would entail taking from Germany everything with which she might break her word to an armistice. From that point the United States and the Allies might proceed to dispose of what remained of kaiserism if the German people have not done so before, as President Wilson plainly invites them to do.

WILSON CALLS ON NATION TO FILL LOAN

Hesitation Now in Support of Army Would Undo Everything

ONE DOLLAR NOW WORTH TEN LATER

Minneapolis District Is First to Go Over the Top

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—After writing his reply to the German peace offer, President Wilson tonight, in a formal statement to the American people, renewed his urgent request for support of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

"Relaxation now, hesitation now, would mean defeat when victory seems to be in sight," would mean years of war instead of peace upon our own terms," said the President.

Coincident with the President's statement, the treasury department announced that with but five days left in the fourth loan campaign, half of the six billion dollar total remains to be subscribed. That means the country must invest nearly one billion dollars daily in bonds until Saturday midnight, when the drive ends.

Subscriptions officially reported to the treasury department total only $2,584,419,950, but officials were confident reports yet to be made on today's subscriptions would carry this total above the three billion dollar mark.

The Minneapolis district claims the distinction of being the first to subscribe its quota, $216,000,000, with every state over-subscribing, but its every effort to the treasury are incomplete because the banks are so short of help that the tabulations have not been completed.

Official figures place the St. Louis district with $204,449,450, or 75 per cent of its quota subscribed. San Francisco is fourth with $200,142,560, 51 per cent of its quota subscribed.

No Veto on Sales
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—"The treasury has neither power nor desire to prohibit sales of Liberty bonds," the treasury has urged and will continue to urge the people of the United States to subscribe to Liberty bonds to the utmost of their ability and to hold their bonds if they can do so," said a telegram from Secretary McAdoo received tonight by James K. Lynch, governor of the twelfth federal reserve bank.

Quizzes and allay any misapprehensions regarding the attitude of the treasury department.

"But let no man think he has purchased his bond only, which he has made a liberal subscription, Liberty bonds and subsequently sold them at a profit. If he has sold them to make an investment which he thinks will produce a larger income return or give him the prospect of a speculative profit or to expend the proceeds for his own enjoyment," the telegram declared.

Pacific, 57 Per Cent
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The Twelfth Federal reserve district tonight has in bank $228,068,150 in subscriptions to the fourth Liberty loan, which is 57 per cent of its quota. The number of subscribers is 1,047,542 compared with a total of 1,312,553 for the third loan.

"Leave diplomacy to the army; put this loan over," was an exhortation of James K. Lynch, governor of the twelfth federal reserve bank, stimulating the campaign and it is believed tonight the showing assures over-subscriptions of the loan except in California and Nevada.

The state of Washington notified headquarters tonight every county in the state will be "over the top" by tomorrow except three in which are the state's largest cities.

Northern California, exclusive of San Francisco, reported $58,073,200 or 74 per cent of its quota. San Francisco total is $200,142,560; its quota $167,875,200.

Los Angeles is increasing its lead over San Francisco in sales of class A in the ship building contest. Portland leads in class B with Seattle second and Oakland third. Berkeley leads in class C with San Diego second, Pasadena third, San Jose fourth, and Sacramento fifth. Riverside is fourth in class E.

PORT OF NO USE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Definite abandonment of Port Yellowstone, after service of approximately 40 years, was announced by the War department of the army here today. The post had no important buildings and the new army program, it was announced.

FOCH, IN FLANDERS, DRIVES ON GHENT TO CLEAR BELGIAN COAST

TO THE UTMOST OF ABILITY OF EACH CITIZEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today issued this statement on the fourth Liberty loan.

"The reply of the German government to my note of inquiry dated October 8 gives occasion for me to say to my fellow countrymen that neither that reply nor any other recent events have in any way diminished the vital importance of this Liberty loan. Relaxation now, hesitation now, would mean defeat when victory seems to be in sight," would mean years of war instead of peace upon our own terms.

"I earnestly request every patriotic American to leave to the government of the United States and the Allies the momentous discussions initiated by Germany and to remember that for each man his duty is to strengthen the hands of these governments and to do it in the most important way now immediately presented—by subscribing to the utmost of his ability for bonds of the fourth Liberty loan. That loan must be successful. I believe that the American people will not fail to see their duty and make it successful."

VOICE OF AMERICAN PRESS UNANIMOUS WITH PRESIDENT

MODesto HERALD.—President Wilson's answer to Germany's peace note can hold out very little comfort to that nation, although it might be possible that the passage of notes will bring about an earlier settlement. The President knows that the American people entered this war willingly to make the world a better place in which to live and Germany must be made to accept war the way she has delivered it.

MORNING PRESS, SANTA BARBARA.—Tomorrow morning will say: The President has spoken in plain American terms. American will not deal with Emperor William. The German people must take and control their own government, else there will be no peace. If Germany is utterly crushed, peace will be up to the German people to choose.

RENO (Nev.) STATE JOURNAL.—President Wilson's reply will meet the approval of a very large per cent of the American people, together with the further statement that this nation will continue to send no relaxation of Germany must understand that our terms are unconditional, surrender.

LOS ANGELES TIMES.—Germany will have to come to it. She must accede to the President's ultimatum sooner or later, and the sooner the better. Germany's autocracy is doomed. Germany cannot escape the world trend.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE.—The President's response to the German proposals rises inevitably from the logic of those notable communications and addresses which have marked our controversy with the imperial government. It expresses with force and unequivocally the confidence and purpose of the American people in due war, and will receive their unhesitating, undivided and enthusiastic approval.

ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT.—The President has not misinterpreted the spirit of the nation in his reply. He could not have said less and remain in accord with the American people. It was unnecessary to have said more.

BALTIMORE SUN.—The President's answer leaves the door open to the German people, if they will kick out their kaiser, cease their atrocities and then accept such terms as the Allied governments will grant. It invites peace, but of a peace which their son was listed only on their conditions.

SIoux CITY (Ia.) JOURNAL.—The President's answer is a masterpiece of statesmanship and of the people because it is a broad, fair and just. It is a masterpiece of the President's ability to see the situation and to state what the people think little town of armistice is mounting and the terms upon which the war is righting proof of its contribution to the cause of world freedom.

LINCOLN (Neb.) STATE JOURNAL.—For two days America resembled nothing so much as a football crowd yelling to the players: "Kick out for a fake." A crowd of young people who would have been proud to fight the enemy at the White House by way of the state department stills the tumult. There is no danger that the President will be isolated by the new army program. It was announced.

LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL.—Again the President has spoken with the truer voice of the people and for the people. (Continued on Page 2.)

Courtrai Outflanked and Roulers Reported Taken; Desperate Resistance to Save Valenciennes

(By the Associated Press.)

Peace talk pervades the air, but it is falling on deaf ears as far as the armies in the field are concerned. Instead of a relaxation in the intensity of the fighting, new hostilities are being carried out by the British, French and Belgians in Belgian Flanders.

Having cleared out the old Lion salient and made advances northward in Champagne, which are menacing the retirement of the Germans eastward toward the Valenciennes-Metz line, General Foch has ordered a drive on the Lys river region on Flanders toward Ghent, which threatens to break entirely the way from the frontier to the coast and likewise to eliminate the big bulge in the line with Lille as its apex.

While the latest official communication from Field Marshal Haig announces that only local actions have taken place in the new theater and that prisoners have been taken in the fighting, dispatches from headquarters assert that Roulers has been captured and that Courtrai, the junction point on the railway leading to Ghent, has been outflanked. The French troops alone are said to have taken 3,000 prisoners, while the Belgians have captured several complete batteries and guns and numerous prisoners. Just how wide the new front of attack is has not become apparent. It is stated that the new advance has brought the Allied troops within range of the enemy coast defenses, but that the guns from them have offered no opposition.

Struggle to Defend Valenciennes.

Meanwhile, in the south, the Germans are still offering stiff opposition to the British southwest of Valenciennes.

All the counter-attacks of the Germans thus far have been withstood by General Liggett's men, and the American artillery is answering the German guns shot for shot.

YOUNG SANBORN PROBABLY LOST WITH TICONDEROGA

WITH THE BRITISH IN FRANCE, Oct. 14.—(By the Associated Press.) The British in their attack in Flanders today approached Courtrai. Counter-attacks by picked Bavarians against the French broke down under a hot fire. Thousands of prisoners have been taken and enormous casualties again have been inflicted on the enemy. The latest reports indicate the British broke through at one place and are advancing toward the Lys. The Belgians have captured several complete batteries and guns and numerous prisoners. Just how wide the new front of attack is has not become apparent. It is stated that the new advance has brought the Allied troops within range of the enemy coast defenses, but that the guns from them have offered no opposition.

Moving Supplies Away.

The battle continues tonight under brilliant moonlight. While the main German resistance has been broken, it still is being offered quite heavily here and there along the front, for the enemy realizes the seriousness of another Allied victory being turned and the German flank is steadily being turned and undoubtedly if the Allied success continues, Lille will fall.

The British are using masses of artillery which, as in recent battles, is being used to great effect.

THE ANSWER

If President Wilson were the type of statesman who keeps his ear to the ground, if the words applied by a witty French statesman to himself, "I follow, therefore I lead," were applicable to the President, he could not have more completely interpreted and reflected public sentiment in this country and in France, England and Italy than he did in his note of yesterday to the German government. Unconditional surrender was the demand of the Allied world. President Wilson has said that, if he has not said more, but with consummate skill he has maintained the initiative in the diplomatic encounter and has for the second time made the German peace attack recoil upon itself. More clearly than ever he has put it up to the German people that they must rule themselves or continue to fight for autonomy.

In the first place, he recognizes "the unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the Reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America"; in other words, he accepts, for diplomatic correspondence, the entire good faith of Prince Maximilian and the "present German government." The de jure, if not the de facto, character of that government was open to very serious question. Its status was left obscure by Prince Max intentionally for the purpose, no doubt, of drawing forth another note of inquiry, and in this way would the note exchange go on, to the demoralization of the home morale and the morale at the front. This is undoubtedly exactly what Max desired.

Instead, however, the President asks for no verbal credentials for the "present German government"; he invites no learned dissertation of German constitutional law. He assumes that the "present German government" is the government of the German empire; being so, it has power to do certain things. He specifies those things. Those things are tantamount to unconditional surrender in a military sense. If the present German government can do those things, it means that there has been a peaceful revolution in Germany; that the civil authorities have power over the military rulers.

There can be no further parleys about these things. They are conditions to be complied with; not matters for further debate. If Max says that he cannot do them, that admission exposes the sham character of "the present German government" and his own equivocal position. If he says that he will not consent to the terms, that shows that Germany does not yet desire peace upon the only terms that peace can be had.

The President effectively exposes the dual character of the German government at the present time—while the civil arm is carrying on a peace offensive the military arm is engaged in an intensified campaign of ruthlessness. Undoubtedly, both branches draw their authority from the Kaiser, and each is responsible to him. The President asks the "present German government" to call off the dogs. The "present German government" must go forward, sustained by the people, when the revolution will have become complete, or must confess a sham and a fraud. In that case, Max will go the way of all German chancellors, and his successor must be a last ditcher for the Kaiser, the autocracy and the Junkers. All pretense of fighting for the fatherland will be off; it will be a fight for the autocracy. Whoever born of the dilemma is taken the situation is perfectly clear to the German people.

The military terms, of course, are those imposed upon a defeated army—evacuation and armistice arranged by the victors, guarantees and discontinuance of atrocities. Naturally the military authorities, if they still control the government, will not accept such terms. To accept them is to surrender unconditionally. The purely military mind will not do this. The tradition, the code of honor is to fight to the last man. Enlightened statesmanship will anticipate the inevitable, saving as much as possible in the process. This is the acid test of fact, not protestation, that Wilson has put up to the "present German government."

As for the Kaiser, it is definitely stated that he must be reduced to the innocuousness of a constitutional monarch. That, as a minimum. This, of course, was implied in previous utterances by Wilson, but its re-statement in definite, specific and personal terms is a condition precedent to peace discussion further emphasized. The determination of the President to deal with "the power which has hitherto controlled the German nation."

CHARACTER SCHOOLS

For the culture of the intellect, schools and colleges are established—to teach men to know, and to train them to think and to make. But where are the colleges of the emotions and the will?

And yet these are the determinants, in every other human relation. All the literature and all the art in the world are an appeal to the emotional imagination. Poetry pictures life, as an embodiment of character—which is a product of the will. Art is a response to a demand on love, which is an emotion, and on the duty-clashes of life, which are a test of will and a manifestation of character. The chief human institution, the family, is planted by the seed of love and grown in the soil of character. The stimulus is emotion and its problems are duty. Good or bad citizenship are matters of character, manifested in emotion and will. The good citizen is the man who cares for the public weal and does his duty to it. The good friend is the man who is loving and faithful. Admiration and contempt are emotions, and they are aroused almost wholly by manifestations of character.

The reward and penalties of life, too, are nearly all emotions. The debauchee seeks his goal in a sensation. Wealth, honor and success are desired chiefly because they arouse the emotion of pride. Failure brings suffering, which is a sensation, and humiliation, which is an emotion—as a result—usually of weakness or instability of will. These things, the emotions, the imagination, the will, are the master qualities, and the character, which is the man, is made of them. The intellect is the servant—and we have organized vast educational institutions, to train it to serve well.

Where are the schools for the master qualities, save as we can pick up education for them incidentally, in the unorganized experiences of life? The army is our answer, for the present. There we train the intellect a little—the men to know something, and the officers much more. But primarily the army, in training camp and battle trench, is a school of character. For the first time we have trained men, not incidentally, but systematically and directly, to be brave and strong and clean; to command responsibility to obey faithfully; to pit their will against other wills, and do or die; to put the public weal above private good, to seek hardship as a privilege and risk death as an honor; to be strong physically, intense emotionally, and resolute morally as public duties, to be loyal and unselfish; to love right and hate wrong, and to sacrifice enthusiastically.

We may not have the army always, and we hope we shall have war never again. It may not, after all, be the best school. But it is the only one we have, to train us in the largest part of life. If it be not the army, nor war, and at any rate for that majority who can not attend this school, what else have we to offer?

Nance O'Neill's coming engagement will be one of the dramatic events of the season. After a year of success in the past she made a flying trip across the country and played a four weeks' engagement at the Columbia theater in San Francisco, making a sensational success in every character in which she appeared. Of course she was at first received with some doubt as it naturally seemed impossible that so young a woman, both in years and experience, could be as great as she was heralded. She was at first called a whippersnapper because she carried her audience into a pitch of excitement, but later it was seen that she was just as effective in quiet emotional acting as in the stronger tragic roles and her success was complete.

THE WORLD WAR

1871 as Precedent

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Rene Viviani, former French premier and minister of foreign affairs, writing in the Excelsior, says it is for the Allies through their governments to answer and through their military agencies to decide how Germany shall evacuate the invaded territory. The ex-premier says:

The tone of the German press the day after President Wilson's note was received in Berlin was full of significance, for in the country, the government itself edits a great part of the press opinion.

It was necessary for Germany to gain time. To avoid immediate punishment Germany even subordinated the question of an armistice to an armistice of President Wilson's demands, which are those of a free people.

"Germany answers that she accepts 'the points.' This no doubt is a synonym for 'principles and conditions.' She proposed an appointment of a mixed commission to consider the question of evacuation. If this proposal is made the object of gaining time is still more evident. One may suppose it is on reading the passage 'The German government leaves it to the President to bring about a meeting of a mixed commission.'"

Fall of Laon Plateau

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Another victory has been added to the long trail of glory blasted by the Allied armies. The Laon plateau at last has been won, crowning the Cambrai-St. Quentin and Rheims offensives.

The conquests are successively followed by Marshal Foch enabled this great achievement to be accomplished without the loss inseparable from a direct attack.

The result is the ruin of the entire defensive system built up by the German general staff since 1914, for the corner stone of it was the Laon plateau, on which the German line was based. The result is that the offensives of 1914 and 1915 were turned out. It was against it that the campaign of 1917 was prematurely broken. It was from the plateau that the sixth great drive of the Germans toward Paris was launched. The fall of the plateau is the prelude to the total

EX-KING OF BULGARS WILL STUDY BOTANY

Like Other Former Kings, He Hopes to Find Relaxation from Cares of State by Keeping His Fingers Busy

By James C. Young

Ferdinand of Bulgaria, former czar and a sinister figure in the recent troubled history of the Balkans, abdicated from the throne and announced that he will devote himself to botany. Certainly this might seem a strange occupation for one accustomed to the business of kingship. But Ferdinand is merely following in the footsteps of far more illustrious rulers who have laid aside power to take up homely tasks. During the last half-dozen years we have seen several of the earth's mighty find relief in workaday occupations. There is the anecdote of the late czar of all the Russians shoveling snow when confined at Tsarskoe Selo. Constantine of Greece was reported the other day to have fallen upon hard times and may be compelled to try his hand at something more exacting than intrigue. Manuel of Portugal, swept aside by the rising tide of democracy, is a familiar figure in England, principally as a social ornament.

Of crowned heads now living who no longer wear the ermine the former Empress Eugenie plays by far the noblest part. She is residing in England, and since the war began has been one of the most devoted workers for wounded soldiers. It must be sweet to her indeed that the Germans are fastening some of that bitter defeat which cost her a throne in 1871.

Antiquity and the middle ages offer many illustrations of rulers who left their high estate to find peace in simple things. There was Charles V., King of Spain, Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, and most powerful monarch of the sixteenth century. Abdicating in favor of his son, he retired to seclusion and spent the declining years of his life at an odd task. This was to make about 100 clocks. It kept him busy night and day. Maria de Medici, another exalted figure of that epoch, passed the last part of her life in embroidery and other handwork. ## LATEST RULES ON A. E. F. MAIL HERE

One Soldier, 1 Christmas
Parcel, Instruction;
Size Is 9x4x3

Christmas parcels for the soldiers in France will be handled through the Red Cross according to the latest instructions received by Postmaster Earle Hughes. Only one parcel can be sent to each soldier in a container provided by the local chapter and inspected by Red Cross officials.

The War Department is desirous that each man serving in the American expeditionary forces in Europe shall receive a remembrance from home at Christmas time, and advises that because of transportation and distribution difficulties but one parcel of standard size and weight can be sent to each. To this end arrangements have been made with the War Department whereby Christmas parcels may be mailed to members of the American expeditionary forces in Europe. Each will be allowed to receive one Christmas parcel for which purpose he will be furnished, through army channels, a Christmas parcel label, bearing the correct name and address of the soldier or member, and also the name of the person designated to mail the parcel. The labels will be prepared to serve as address labels for the parcels. The label furnished each soldier or other member of the A. E. F. will be sent by him to the person who is to mail the Christmas parcel. No Christmas parcel for members of the expeditionary forces in Europe will be accepted for transmission without such label.

All Christmas parcels must be of standard size; 3 inches by 4 inches by 9 inches, and shall not exceed 5 pounds in weight for which purpose cartons of the size prescribed will be distributed through the local Red Cross chapters throughout the country. No person will be furnished a carton except upon presentation of a Christmas Parcel Label received from abroad.

The parcels must contain no prohibited or unallowable articles. Perishable food products are not permitted. After the cartons have been filled by the persons who receive them, they shall be returned to a Red Cross receiving station where inspectors appointed by the Red Cross will carefully examine each parcel and supervise its wrappings and the affixing of the Christmas parcel label and the necessary postage, the latter to be furnished by the sender. When the parcels have thus been packed and wrapped and otherwise prepared for transmission, the Red Cross will affix to each parcel a certificate in the form of a seal showing that the parcel has been inspected and contains no prohibited or unallowable matter. Such certificates will be accepted by the postal service and army authorities as evidence that the parcels conform to the conditions prescribed and obviate the necessity of subsequent examination. The parcels must be left at the Red Cross receiving stations which will deposit them in the mails for dispatch.

Christmas parcels must bear the name and address of the sender and will be addressed substantially as follows: "Christmas Box Department, Port of Embarkation, Hoboken, New Jersey."

Organization. "American Expeditionary Forces." Parcels so addressed will be chargeable with postage at the fourth class or parcel post zone-rate applicable between the office where mailed and Hoboken, to be prepaid by stamps affixed. The rate is 12 cents a pound.

Parcels may bear inscriptions such as "Please do not open until Christmas," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and the like.

In order to assure the arrival of Christmas parcels abroad and the delivery to the addressees by Christmas all such parcels must be mailed on or before November 29, 1918.

The foregoing does not in any way change the instructions heretofore issued regarding the acceptance of parcels up to 7 pounds in weight for members of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe which contain articles sent in response to the written request of a member approved by his regimental commander or other officer authorized to approve such requests.

WILL NOT CAMPAIGN DURING LOAN DRIVE

H. E. Barbour's Workers Sustained by Rep. Co. Committee

At a meeting of the Republican county central committee yesterday afternoon, called to consider the many requests that have been made to have H. E. Barbour, Republican candidate for congress, appear at public meetings in different localities, the following resolution was adopted:

"In response to the request for speeches by H. E. Barbour, Republican nominee for congress in this district, this committee is of the opinion that, consistent with the wishes of Mr. Barbour himself, every particle of energy of the country should be devoted to the national activities that are now being waged, and we therefore feel that the time is not opportune to divert any part of the public attention to political meetings, at least until the present Liberty Loan drive is over, thereby conforming to the wishes of President Wilson."

After the meeting Geo. Cosgrave, chairman of the county committee, said: "Mr. Barbour and the entire committee are fixed in their determination to conduct this campaign in such way as will most nearly conform with the wishes and advice of those in grave authority who understand the importance of the present movement and ask that politics be adjourned at this trying time. It seems to be necessary for candidate to high office to go out through the district and meet as many as possible of the voters and this Mr. Barbour will do, but until the loan drive is over he will make no public speeches."

Barber Gives Recipe For Gray Hair

Tells How to Make a Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy.

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who has been a barber in New York City for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder or any drug store. It costs very little and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar, products or their derivatives.

"It does not run off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."

The Humphrey "Radiantfire"

A Wonderful Discovery in Gas Heating Peculiarly Adapted to Our California Climate

"Radiantfire" is the modern open fireplace. It has the charm and fascination of the freelight, the same flood of radiant heat, without the dirt of smoke, firewood or ashes, and the danger from flying sparks. . . .

Noiseless and Odorless. It lights quickly—can be turned down low—no deadening of the air.

Why not install one in that unused fireplace?

N. B. We sell and install the Humphrey "Radiantfire". See demonstration in our Heating Department at headquarters.

TRAINING SOLDIERS RALLY TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Thousands Answer the Kaiser's Peace Talk
by Drilling

Berton Einstein to Speak,
"Inside" on Business of Beating Prussians

"In times of peace, prepare for war."
This sentiment was echoed at Armory hall last night when big classes of drafted men drilled strenuously for the day when they would enter the camps to train for the end of Kaiserism.

The weekly military drill rally for drafted men will be held at the Fresno Auditorium tonight. Arrangements have been completed, and the drilling men at the armory last night were asked to prevail upon their drafted friends to attend.

District Chairman F. A. Homan of the Council of Defense will not be able to attend the rally, but other members of the council are expected. Berton Einstein will deliver an eight-minute talk on a phase of the world war, and the duty of Americans to fight or to back the fighters in the best way known to the financial world. In the light of President Wilson's answer to Germany, the speaker's message will have great significance. There will be no pledges. The men attend to drill, and the speech is to be given as an important part of the war business to help the men in training and to back the President.

Captain S. L. Galticher will have direction of the drills, which will be varied to suit the different classes of the partly trained and inexperienced men. Tonight is the "public" night, and the families of the training men are invited to the gallery. There are no facilities for the 7,000 drafted men. Men receiving credits have great advantages in training camps.

The Woodmen of the World drum corps will head the march of the partly trained men from the armory at 7:30 o'clock. This is the "fall in" march for General Crowder's 7,000 recruits, and all are welcomed to participate.

Mr. Homan and Captain Galticher went to Fowler to organize a class there last night. Homan will go to Reedley tonight.

KINGSBURG FARM MEETING TONIGHT

The Kingsburg Farm Bureau Center will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the high school building. Officers will be elected to serve for the new year, beginning November 1. Miss May Long, representing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will speak on the work of the Farm Home Department. Women are especially invited to attend. Special topics up for discussion are cover crops and wheat. Numerous questions have been raised, as to cover crop seed supply, kinds of cover crop best adapted to the County and also numerous questions relating to varieties of wheat and treatment of seed to eradicate smut. The County Farm Adviser will answer a number of these questions, which have recently been raised in the Kingsburg section.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

TO INTERPRET WAR LITERATURE

On Friday Mrs. George H. Eccles will begin interpretations of up-to-date fiction at complimentary evening at the Y. W. C. A. There are two classes a week, one at 5:45 Monday afternoon, and the other 7:30 Friday night. Mrs. Eccles will review the "Whistling Mother" by Grace Richmond, dealing with the boy who is about to leave for the front; the "Full Measure of Devotion" by Dana Guillin, telling of the boy at the front who has been wounded and killed; and "The Three Things" by Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, explaining the three things the boy at the front learns.

Anyone interested in the study of modern war literature is invited to attend.

The Fresno County Liberty Loan Committee Has Unanimously En- dorsed the Following Course:

While the great multitude of our patriotic men and women are subscribing their share and doing their part for the Fourth Liberty Loan, yet there are some of our people, who have the financial ability, but have persistently failed and refused during the former Liberty Loan campaigns, and still fail and refuse to respond to this the Fourth Liberty Loan, and there are others with adequate means who have only subscribed in ridiculously small amount, which is practically equivalent to no subscription at all.

Therefore, in order that all should do their just part commensurate with their ability, it has been decided to notify those who have been, and are still derelict to their high obligations that they should meet such obligations to their country, and for that purpose they will be accorded a hearing to ascertain why they cannot meet and assume their just proportion of Liberty Bonds, and where no good and sufficient reason can be shown at such hearing for their failure and they have the means to respond and they still neglect and refuse to subscribe for Liberty Bonds in the amount fairly and honestly allotted to them to purchase; their delinquency to their country in this great crisis will be publicly announced.

High School Activities

This morning at 10 o'clock the students of the Fresno high school will meet at an assembly which will feature the Kinema Quartet. This quartet is composed of Earl Toward, second bass; Mitchell Briggs, first bass; Fred Sutton, second tenor; and Sylvester Swank, first tenor. The program will consist of popular war songs. Principal Walter O. Smith and J. A. Nowell will address the assembly.

Unsettled weather and the danger zone in which the grapes lay has brought to the foreground the "farmorettes" from the high school. Yesterday afternoon an "S. O. S." call came to V. A. Rolier for boys to stack trays. But a half dozen girls answered the call and in less than an hour they were transformed from school girls to farmer models, ready to do their "bit." At 2 o'clock a machine found for Wiley (titten's) ranch left the school, with the following girls: Donna Beatty, Margaret Loper, Betty Downing, Helen Whaley, Dorothy Griffen and Jennie Griffen.

V. A. Rolier stated yesterday that he had discharged girls from taking up this work. About 110 boys have been sent to various ranches for turning and stacking trays, during the last few days.

The Student club of the high school held their first meeting in the school building last night with the following in office: President, Carrie White; vice president, Dorothea Kearns; secretary, Helen Decker; treasurer, Burgess Carmichael; auditor, Joseph Holoman; sergeant-at-arms, Anton George; reporter, Dorothea Kearns.

A committee was appointed consisting of Theresa Slaven, Burgess Carmichael and Dorothea Kearns to prepare initiation for new members.

The following cast was selected for the play, "La Primera Disputa": Doña Kears, the wife; Anton George, the husband; Helen Hoefler, the aunt.

For the purpose of canvassing the schoolrooms today for donations of jelly, jam, preserves and fruit butters for sending to the convalescent soldiers at home or abroad, the following committee has been appointed: Janice Collins, Marguerite Waldeman, Mabel Lane, Lillian Pearson, John

Greely, Bonnie DeWitt, Hildogard Sanburn, Amille Stenberg, Emma Nilmeier, Sidney Parker and Adele Walker. Seventy glasses of jelly, jam and preserves have already been brought for the "Soldiers' Sweet Corner."

"We have no yell
We have no yell
But when we yell
We yell like—
Rip Van Winkle's yellow pup
Fresno high school won't give up."

Riff, ruff, ruff
Riff, ruff, ruff
Fisher, (any name)
Pussy, pussy, pussy

"Hippity, hippity, hum
We're not allowed to cuss
But nevertheless
We must confess
There's nothing the matter with us."

"Play ball Fresno
Play ball well
Trust in Heaven
Play like — Fresno."

Little AMERICANS
Do your bit

Save sugar, wheat, meat, labor and fuel

It's a blessing that American children are so well-fed and cared for in these troublous times.

Give them plenty of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes and Milk.

Kellogg's contain the needed protein, starches and other carbohydrates. Milk supplies the fats, vitamins, mineral salts, and the casein which corresponds to the lean of meat.

In serving Kellogg's you comply with the Government's wishes by saving wheat, meat, sugar and fuel.

Kellogg's is about the only cereal food that needs no sugar—owing to the flavor and sweetness developed in the Kellogg Process.

Kellogg's is convenient to get. It's at every grocer's—everywhere.

Most people when they say "Corn Flakes" mean "Kellogg's"—the Original—the Flakes that are delicate and thin, with a flavor and crispness all their own.

Don't merely ask for "Corn Flakes"—specify Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes and

MAN IS JAILED FOR HECKLING DRAFT MEN AT DRILL

Arrest Made in Saloon at Close of Exercises; Another Caught
Three Attempts to Upset Orders; U. S. Officers Will Investigate.

W. A. Solcett was arrested last night for heckling the draft men drilling on I street near the army and on other streets in the vicinity. He was taken into custody at the saloon at 902 I street after the drill by Deputy Sheriff Miller, and was jailed on a charge of breaking his parole, and will be turned over to the U. S. bureau of investigation today. Solcett was released from custody on a minor charge yesterday morning, after being given a sentence of two days with the privilege of paying a fine of $10, providing he remained on good behavior.

Three times last night, persons on the walks or in buildings attempted to interfere with the marching men by giving false orders or saying uncomplimentary things. Skulks in Building.

As the company passed a rooming house and a saloon on Tulare street, a man in an upper window shouted a pretended order. A hastily patrolled by the police failed to locate him. A National Guard officer caught another man on Mariposa street interfering with the work of a corporal and a second, and will report him to Deputy U. S. Marshal S. J. Shannon today.

Two young men near the courthouse park stood near a unit of drilling men, and made slighting remarks. The officer asked them if they thought they were doing their duty as American citizens. The men refused to do better, and immediately fell into raps and drilled the rest of the evening.

When men who have volunteered to fit themselves for their duties as American soldiers are at drill it is unpardonable disrespect and a crime for lazy loafers to stand on the curb and make slighting and traitorous remarks," said an officer. "Such conduct cannot be tolerated. They are worse than slackers, pulling it mildly."

ADOLPH HUNAULT DIES.
Adolph Hunault, 64 years old, died yesterday at a local hospital following a chronic illness of several months.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Anna Hunault, two sons, Frederick and Simon, two daughters, Miss Isabel Hunault, all of San Francisco, Mrs. Andrew Dunlap, Dunlap, and several sisters and brothers.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow from St. John's church. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Arrangements are in the hands of the R. A. Powell Undertaking Company.

HAVE REGISTRATION CARDS ALONG.
S. Y. Yoncalu was arrested yesterday by Sergeant Forness and Officers Sayre and Linkous because he neglected to have his registration card with him. He was booked for the board of investigation.

"Everyone should carry his card at all times," said Chief Quelling, in referring to the subject. "By so doing, the owner will avoid annoyance. It is unlawful to be without it."

REVOLUTION IN GERMANY ONLY HOPE OF NATION

warns the German people unless they destroy the Allied armies will do so. One of the most important points of his note is that in which he acknowledges the present German government's unqualified acceptance of his peace terms and then goes on to show that these terms provide specifically for the substitution of a government wholly responsible to the German people themselves for the present one, dominated by the German militarists.

Kaiser Must Go.
Quoting the point Vernon speech of July 4, the President reminds Germany that his terms call for the destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere, that can separately, secretly, and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or if it cannot be presently destroyed at least its reduction to virtual impotence.

Here, then, follow the words which proclaim that the autocratic government of Germany must go, and plainly invite the German people to make the change which will bring them peace. "The peace which I have here announced," says the President, "is not a peace of mere truce, but a peace of permanent settlement. It is within the choice of the German people to alter it. The President's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given of this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the government associated against Germany should know, and be sure of, that the peace which they are dealing with is a permanent one."

Still Autocratic.
This pronouncement, the President's friends say, fulfills predictions that in his first reply to Prince Maximilian he was laying the foundations of proof that the new government of Germany is no less autocratic than the governments of former chancellors and for a final statement to the German people themselves that nothing but their autocratic government stands between them and the peace which they so fervently desire. This, the President's friends say, has been the whole theory of his diplomacy.

The next move in the great international drama is now expected to take place in Germany while the armies of the belligerents thunder at her gates. Diplomats are agreed to what must come from Germany now is action, not words. Lines of German anchors.

When the President decided to say that if an armistice should be thought of, it could not be considered without imposing terms guaranteeing Germany's good faith, and providing for maintenance of the military supremacy of the allies of the United States and the Entente Allies, he undoubtedly knew what the Allied war council, acting on the recommendations of Marshal Kitchener, had decided upon as necessary conditions. These now are understood to include occupation of Metz, Strasbourg and Coblenz, the strategic keys to Germany.

The German government may, it is believed, offer to give the guarantees which will permit an armistice. From that point, the disposition of the armistice might be considered in connection with the terms of peace.

No answer to Austria.

Although Germany is informed that a separate reply will be made to the peace note of the Austro-Hungarian government, it is known that for the present no communication will be sent either to Austria-Hungary or to Turkey. Replies to Germany's vassal allies will await the next move in Berlin, unless that is anticipated by a new plea and offer of surrender from Vienna of Constantinople, or both.

GRIP NOT TO STOP PUBLIC MEETINGS

Loan Meetings to Be Held in Open Air; Theaters Open; 40 New Cases

Closing of public places of amusement in Fresno to prevent the spread of the influenza will not be resorted to at the present by the board of health. The measure has been discussed, but the board and Mayor Trowey have held that the will of the people to co-operate must be the first bulwark of defense against the epidemic. If all persons who have the grip will stay at home, the infection will not spread, the majority holds.

Managers of three theaters met yesterday and decided to keep the theaters open to show the war pictures and to boost the Liberty loan. Managers Sharp, Barton and Morris all agreed they were using money on account of the epidemic, but that the shows should go on so long as the board of health took no action to the contrary.

The Liberty loan committee, while favoring meetings to simplify their task, have decided in general to hold meetings in the open air, where it is said the grip is seldom contracted.

There were forty new cases yesterday morning and several more in the afternoon.

The board conference with the mayor yesterday morning was postponed. Enough beds for a score of indigents and some patients are still available at the hospital.

SELMA SUBSCRIBES $22,000 IN HURRY

Lieut. Vincent de Wierschick, high commissioner of Fresno, secured Selma in such a high pitch of enthusiasm last night, and Frank G. Hood, champion Liberty bond salesman, did so well, and woman of the House of the Peace demonstrated their Americanism to such an extent that $22,000 was added to Selma's quota within half an hour.

KINGS COUNTY GOES OVER WITH A WHOOP

HANFORD, Oct. 14.—Kings county has now gone $15,000 above its allotment in the fourth Liberty loan, a quota of $1,035,000, and the Committee of One Hundred is forging ahead with an hourly increasing reward for their efforts. It is hoped to send the county at least $250,000 over the quota, and there will be no relaxation of work until the final hour for the campaign to close arrives.

The Hanford union high school students today brought $3,000 at a rally held there today.

STEAL FEATHER BED.
Burglars stole a double feather bed, a shotgun and a pistol from the home of Mrs. S. E. Given, 3502 Belmont avenue, last night, according to her statement to the police department. The stolen articles were valued at about $25. There was no clue to the thief.

REPUBLICAN BOYS ARRIVE OVERSEAS

News has been received of the arrival overseas of two former employees of the Republican. The two men are Gordon Blaine and J. P. Orphan.

Blaine was for several years in the proof room, and enlisted in the 35th engineers in March, 1917, and proceeded immediately to Camp Fremont, where he remained till he left for Europe. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Blaine, and attended the local schools and Fresno high school. He has a brother, Roger Blaine, also in the service.

Wagoner J. P. Orphan is a member of Battalion C, 15th field artillery. Before joining the army he was employed in the automobile department of the Republic.

SIGNS WILL TELL PROFITS OF GROCER

Every grocer in Fresno today will display in his store a large sign showing the cost prices of certain foodstuffs listed by the government, together with the selling price. The signs are intended to reveal the margin of profit. Today the government order takes effect.

SECOND BOY TO SELL HIS QUOTA

Ray Gerard was the second marine scout to sell ten bonds in the big drive last Saturday, according to Superintendent Raymond Quigley. He belongs to the Normal School company and sold $500 in bonds.

KINGS R. WATER FOR WAR CROPS

Conservation Committee Calls Meeting to Consider Plans

The water of Kings river may be used to produce more crops during the war period. The executive committee of the Kings river conservation committee at the district meeting at the city hall yesterday named a committee headed by A. L. Schindler to draw up an agreement with the canal company and the land owners to furnish the water, without in any way affecting the status of water rights. They will report to the next meeting of the board, called for October 25. All interested persons will be asked to attend.

The state water commission will be retained on the measuring of all flows, through the coming rainy season. All thirteen districts of the Kings basin were represented. Three Fresno district delegates were present. W. P. Boone, executive secretary, also attended.

RED CROSS GETS FINE DONATIONS

Red Cross headquarters yesterday received some very fine donations which will swell the treasury very materially. From the receipts of a box social given at Helen, P. R. Williams yesterday brought in the sum of $4 for the Red Cross.

Another donation, which meant much in the matter of personal sacrifice was the gift of $10, which was brought in by a patriotically inclined workman, who explained that he was unable to buy a Liberty bond, but that he wanted to do his part, and would do that through the Red Cross.

LINDSAY PASTOR TAKES FAREWELL

Rev. G. A. Warner Is Transferred to Bakersfield

LINDSAY, Oct. 14.—The Methodist church of Lindsay last evening received the farewell sermon from Rev. G. A. Warner who has been transferred here the last four years and was recently transferred to a very substantial increase in salary for the coming year. The district officials of the church and have transferred him to Bakersfield and Rev. Montague succeeded to the pastorate here.

The final topic of the day, "Germany's peace proposal," and her note of the other day provided the pastor with tincter for a burning speech on the necessity of putting over the present Liberty loan.

A few remarks were also made by W. L. Kiggins, chairman of the loan committee in which he stated that Lindsay had raised 82 per cent of her quota of $264,000 and that the balance must be raised as he had received a government communication that while this $264,000,000 seemed heavy in the face of peace conditions still it has to be raised as $450,000,000 of it had already been spent.

Prof. E. H. Boren spoke a few minutes in behalf of the Boy Scouts. These three addresses and the war pictures, which are being shown every Sunday evening at this church, made a real patriotic Sunday service.

The evening's entertainment provided by the local organization of the Women's Council of Defense last Saturday evening will be entitled to a goodly position of credit for Lindsay's subscriptions this week.

The 4-minute speeches by the High school winners, Miss Lane, Evans and Miss Blanche Badger were full of facts and well presented.

The addresses by Attorneys Fred C. Scott and W. W. Middlecott left no doubt on the audience's mind as to the necessity of this loan.

The play, "Rise Up, Jennie Smith," the patriotic songs by the audience and the music by the orchestra under the leadership of Mrs. P. H. Boren were full of the spirit of the occasion, namely the success of the Fourth Liberty loan.

Army Emergency Appropriation to Be Debated This Week

The Senate, it was considered likely, might give over tomorrow's entire session to discussion of the reply.

Consideration of the nine billion dollar army emergency appropriation bill virtually has been completed by the House appropriations committee and it is believed the measure can be reported Wednesday. Chairman Shriver expects at least two days will be required for the House to pass the bill. While the Senate committee will act promptly on the measure, Majority Leader Martin said the bill could not be taken up in the Senate before next week at the earliest. Meanwhile the Senate probably will continue its three day recess.
